The Dangers of Garbage Trucks

Garbage trucks are big and heavy. They help keep our streets clean, but they can also be dangerous. Unlike semi-trucks, garbage trucks are often in residential areas. It is important to know the difference between the types of trucks and why they can cause accidents.

Some garbage trucks pick up garbage cans from homes. These trucks stop often and move slowly. They use a big arm to grab the can and dump it into the truck. These trucks usually stay in neighborhoods. Other trucks pick up large dumpsters. These dumpsters are often behind stores or in parking lots. The trucks that pick them up are much bigger. They lift the whole dumpster high in the air. These trucks need more space to move and can be harder to see around.

Both types of trucks can be dangerous. They have big blind spots. This means the driver may not see people walking nearby. They are also heavy and cannot stop quickly. If something goes wrong, the truck can cause a lot of damage. Always be careful around garbage trucks. Stay back and do not try to cross in front of them. Drivers may not see you. If you are driving, do not try to pass a garbage truck when it is stopping or turning. These trucks need a lot of room.

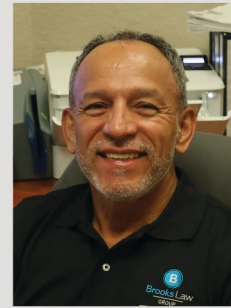

If you or someone you love gets hurt by a garbage truck, our team is here to help. We understand how these accidents happen and how to get justice for our clients. Garbage truck crashes can change lives. You do not have to go through it alone. Call us for help.

Brooks Law Employee Spotlight Diego Alvear Vivas

This summer it is our privilege to put our Employee Spotlight on Diego Alvear Vivas! Diego has been the Bookkeeper at Brooks Law Group for almost 2 years now!

He has always loved numbers, but his favorite part of this job is getting to prepare the closing checks that go directly into the clients' hands. Before joining our firm, Diego worked for the Colombian mission to the United Nations for 17 years, a job he truly loved.

In his free time, Diego always wants to spend time with his family. He is also a very active person. He cycles every week, he loves hiking and even skiing when he gets the opportunity.

Diego's favorite thing about working at Brooks Law Group is the environment. He loves the people, and the atmosphere created in the office. He also loves his position as the bookkeeper, because he gets to interact with everyone in the office regularly.

We are honored to have Diego as a member of our team!

RECIPE OF THE MONTH

Brought to you by:
Anjali

Anjali's Muffin Tin Chicken Pot Pies

- 1 batch of pie crust
- 1 lb boneless, skinless chicken breast, cubed
- ¾ cup each chopped carrots, potato, and green beans
- ½ cup corn (fresh or frozen)
- ⅓ cup each butter, chopped onion, and all-purpose flour
- ½ tsp salt, ¼ tsp black pepper, and optional spices (e.g., garlic, celery seed)
- 2 cups of chicken broth
- 1 to 1½ cups milk

PREPARATION

Preheat oven to 425°F (220°C)

Boil chicken, carrots, potatoes, and beans in enough chicken broth to cover for 15 mins. Drain (save broth), stir in corn, and set aside.

Sauté onions in butter until soft. Add flour, salt, pepper, and spices. Slowly stir in 1¾ cups broth and 1 cup milk. Simmer until thick.

Combine chicken mix and sauce. Add more broth/milk if needed for a gravy-like consistency.

Roll out dough into 12 circles (4 per ⅓ of dough). Press 6 into muffin tin cups with ½" overhang.

Fill generously with chicken mixture. Top with remaining dough circles.

Seal & vent: Pinch edges to seal and trim excess. Cut slits for steam.

Bake for 30 mins or until golden brown.

Happy Birthday!

Steve's Corner

As a personal injury attorney, I regularly connect with managing partners and CEOs of large law firms across the country. These conversations help me bring back best practices to strengthen our firm and improve the way we serve our clients.

Personal injury law is messy by nature. Every case is different, and emotions often run high. That is why I believe in the power of process. A strong process creates structure in the chaos. It helps us catch issues before they become problems and ensures that nothing falls through the cracks.

Take the aviation industry. Pilots follow a checklist every time they fly. Not because they do not know what to do, but because even the most experienced pilots benefit from structure and routine. It reduces the risk of error and increases safety. The same principle applies in our work.

At Brooks Law Group we use checklists and systems for most aspects of case, from intake to closing.

These tools keep us on track, allow us to work more efficiently, and give our clients confidence that their case is being handled with care and precision. In a business built on trust, that kind of consistency makes all the difference.

Beach's Corner

Ever since I was a kid, I have always been very competitive. Whether it was a game of baseball or grades in school, I always gave it my all. It is something really important in my whole family, and it is a big part of who I am.

That same fire that I had as a kid drives me today as a personal injury attorney. I fight hard to be better every day. I study every detail. I ask every question. I do not give up until I get results. My clients count on me, and I take that very seriously.

Being competitive helps me push harder. I always want to be better than I was the day before. Winning a case is not about beating the other side. It is about helping someone get what they deserve. That is what keeps me going every single day.
